

dad.

dominant alleles, only show up if two recessive alleles are present

3. One gene in a pair can mask the other gene and will always express itself (dominant). Other genes will only show up if there are two of them and no dominant gene is present (recessive)